Correction in the Subject Line - Saturday, August 3rd.

Rene,

Today, Saturday, August 3rd, Cascade continued to drill YVD-04 from 78 to 228 feet bgs before stopping for the day. The general lithology consisted of sand to about 91 feet, gravelly sand to 110 feet, Sand to 149 feet, sandy silt to 161 feet, gravelly sand to 184 feet, sandy gravel to 225 feet and silt to 228 feet. Moisture in the cuttings were first observed at about 209 feet. The boring was allowed to sit for about 30 minutes to allow any recharge; however no water was observed. Cascade will try again in the morning to determine if any water recharged overnight.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
